

Powering Business Worldwide

March 25, 2020

Dear Eaton Channel Partner,

Like so many of you, we are dealing with an unprecedented operating environment as this global health crisis impacts our work and daily lives. Despite the challenges, we at Eaton are committed to being here for you and your businesses.

We have made the important decision to maintain operations as much as possible and subject to legal requirements during this crisis because of the vital role our company plays in sustaining essential infrastructure and ensuring critical power supply. Should any government orders impact our operations, we will alert you. Please read Eaton's full response to COVID 19 (Eaton.com) for details on how we are implementing safe work practices to enable continued operations. We feel this is the best way to do our part, as we assure you that the health and safety of our customers, employees, and communities are our top priorities.

As the global health crisis evolves, we are likely to experience some disruptions in production and supply. Please know that we will work through these and will work to continue delivering your orders to our best ability.

Our thoughts are with you and your loved ones as we share this difficult journey together. Be safe, stay well, and we look forward to seeing you in person soon.

Regards,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Brian Brickhouse".

Brian Brickhouse

President
Americas region
Electrical Sector, Eaton

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Scott Hearn".

Scott Hearn

President
Crouse-Hinds, B-Line & Oil & Gas
Electrical Sector, Eaton